

Hoshi Printer
Chief Financial Officer
Private Access, Inc.

Hoshi Printer has more than three decades of impressive general and financial management experience spanning a wide range of industries. His expertise includes dealing with Wall Street, interacting with Board of Directors, improving operational effectiveness, and restructuring organizations.

Printer is one of the very few CFOs to have taken three companies public, and is well respected by both buy-side and sell-side analysts. He has also raised funds for several other companies in various stages of maturity. He has led acquisition of seven companies and participated in several other negotiations for both sale and acquisitions. He has served as CFO of ten technology related companies.

Printer began his career at Xerox Corporation, where he spent 17 years, the last six as Vice President of Finance.

Printer has served as a Cash Management consultant to the White House, where he helped save the U.S. Treasury $40 million by increasing cash flow at two government agencies.

Printer is frequently invited to speak on financial matters. He is a board member of the Forum for Corporate Directors, and a member of the Executive Council of the College of Business at Cal State Fullerton. He has served as the President of the Software Council of Southern California and on the Executive Board of AeA Orange County.

Printer's academic credentials include a B.S. in both Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, an M.S. in Industrial Engineering, and an M.B.A. from the Stanford Business School. He has also served as a Lieutenant in the U.S. Army and is a Vietnam veteran.

He lives with his wife in Newport Coast.
